The Confederation of Mexican Graduate Students and Researchers in Canada (CEIMEXCAN, acronym in Spanish) cordially invites you to its 17th National Conference that will be held October 21st– 23th, 2022 at the following venues:

- 21st Polyvalente Le Carrefour, 50 Chem. de la Savane, Gatineau, QC J8T 3N2
- 22nd and 23rd Shenkman Arts Centre (245 Centrum Blvd, Orléans, Ottawa, ON K1E 0A1)

CEIMEXCAN is a registered non-profit organization with representatives across Canada. The impressive network of novel and advanced research conducted by its members and collaborators in diverse areas of knowledge has built what nowadays is considered as the most important independent Latin American academic (science and technology) think tank in Canada.

Objectives

The main objectives of this Conference are to:

- ✓ Give recognition to the work accomplished by graduate students of Mexican origin in any discipline, as well as to the investigation conducted (in progress or finished) by researchers from diverse nationalities who are interested in subjects related to Mexico; and
- ✓ Provide participants with an environment to network and foster Mexico-Canada relations within different academic fields.

Topic

The overall topic for the 2022 year is “Linking knowledge for sustainable human development” in the following fields:

- a) Advances and exchange in science and technology;
- b) Culture, art and ethnic expressions in Mexico and Canada;
- c) Climate change, environment, and sustainable development;
- d) Mexico-Canada; Aboriginal and traditional knowledge
- e) Mexico-Canada, education relations, economy, and trade
- f) Mexico-Canada, international relations, and affairs; and
- g) Mexico-Canada, politics and society.

Participation formats

- Poster exhibition (can be shared during the presentation, virtual posters)
 - ✎ You are welcome to submit a new poster or one from a recent conference.
- Platform presentation (virtual live, or pre-recorded)
 - ✎ Presentations will last 15 minutes with 5 minutes for questions.

Note:

- * The languages of the conference are Spanish, English and French.
- * Presentations should be able to communicate the complexity of their research to a wide non-specialized audience.
- * Abstracts should be redacted in English with information able to be shared with the public, since this information will be posted online.
- * Due to the increasing participation in recent conferences we encourage early submissions.

Eligibility for presentations and posters

1. Graduate students or researchers in Canada who were born in Mexico or whose parents are of Mexican origin. All fields of research are welcome.
2. Graduate students or researchers of other nationalities who are currently working in a Canadian institution on a topic related to Mexico and that falls within this year's conference topic.
3. Individuals from any nationality who are currently working, or have worked in the past 24 months (volunteer or paid), in organizations related to Mexico or heavily influenced by Mexicans.
4. The organizers encourage the participation of all those interested. All proposals are welcome and will be included in the program. If special observations or recommendations are needed to improve the quality of the work, they will be sent to the applicants as soon as possible after their submission.

Submission process – Important dates

Phase I: Deadline for abstracts (September 30th, 2022)

Please send your 250-word abstract by e-mail (ceimexcanconference@gmail.com), with the title and author(s) name(s). This will allow the committee to define the different areas to be covered, and to help authors apply for travel grants, and/or to request assistance for their accommodation.

Phase II: Deadline to submit your work (October 7th, 2022)

Please send your personal information and a full manuscript of your work by e-mail (ceimexcanconference@gmail.com). The body of this document must be between 4 to 10 pages long (approximately 1000-2500 words, double spaced, Times New Roman 12-point font size). The manuscript can have a maximum of 14 pages including charts, bibliography, images, etc. and it should be sent in a single WORD or PDF file named as follows: "YourName–ContributionTitle.doc" (.tex or .pdf).

NOTE: During CEIMEXCAN 2022, the presentations will be delivered in a mixture of presential and/or virtually (Zoom/or Microsoft Teams platform). It is recommended that you send (and share) your presentation during your participation. You can also participate sending a recorded presentation, voice and graphics (and/or slides), in a PPT format and uploaded on a video format to our hosting platform.

Manuscripts must be in Spanish or English.

1. Personal information required:

- Title of the contribution
- Field of work (specialty)
- Author(s) name(s)
- Institution(s)
- Address and e-mail of main author
- Desired participation format
- Personal biography (200 words max.)
- LinkedIn contact

2. Manuscript Format:

- Title of contribution
- Abstract (maximum 250 words)
- Manuscript (12pt font, double spacing, maximum 14 pages including abstract, figures and references)

Proceedings and materials

Papers/projects (with permission from their authors), images of the conference and some notes from its discussions will be uploaded to CEIMEXCAN's webpage. The aim is to promote the authors' researches and work among different institutions and companies. If authors decline this option, they are free to publish their research in the journal of their choice.
